Petitioner - A. V. Williams Trust
Special Exception and Special
Hearing Petition

Dear Mr. Williams:

The Zoning Plans Advisory Committee has reviewed the plans submitted with the above referenced petition. The following comments are not intended to indicate the appropriateness of the zoning action requested, but to assure that all parties are made aware of plans or problems with regard to the development plans that may have a bearing on this case. The Director of Planning may file a written report with the Zoning Commissioner with recommendations as to the suitability of the requested zoning.

In view of your clients' proposal to locate a family entertainment restaurant with amusement devices in the existing shopping center, this special exception is required. In view of the fact that this petition was filed prior to Bill #29-32, a special hearing request was also included with this petition. Even though it is not necessary, it was your decision to have it included in the advertising. A similar request (Case #82-276-X) has been scheduled for a property on Belair Road north-east of Lincoln Avenue.

Particular attention should be afforded to the comments of the Department of Permits and Licenses.

Item No. 223
Petitioner - A. V. Williams Trust

Enclosed are all comments submitted from the members of the Committee at this time that offer or request information on your petition. If similar comments from the remaining members are received, I will forward them to you. Otherwise, any comment that is not informative will be placed in the hearing file. This petition was accepted for filing on the date of the enclosed filing certificate and a hearing scheduled accordingly.

Due to the instant special exception for an arcade as a use in combination with a family entertainment restaurant having been granted, it is the opinion of the Deputy Zoning Commissioner, that the request for a family entertainment restaurant with accessory coin-operated amusement devices as a permitted commercial recreation enterprise in a B.M. Zone is moot, and, as such, the Petition for Special Hearing is hereby DISMISSED.

Re: Urgent Need for Special Exception For Use in Combination Arcade with a Restaurant To Be Known As Pizza Time Theater At Martin Plaza, Martin Blvd. Baltimore County, Maryland

Dear Commissioner Hammond:

Confirming my telephone conversation with you this morning as well as my lengthy conversations of May 10, 1982 with Mr. Commodari of your staff, it is imperative for a number of reasons that this Special Exception request for an arcade as a part of a family theme restaurant be heard during the month of June, 1982.

The compelling reasons and the urgency in this matter are based upon the following:

- 1.) Just as in the case of the Rivertowne Restaurant heard and granted by your Deputy, Mrs. Jung, our client, Family Entertainment Centers, Inc., trading as Pizza Time Theater have literally waited for months for the amusement machine area to be cleared up by appropriate council regulations, ultimately Bill 25-82 to become effective in early June.
- 2.) Just as in the case of Rivertowne, we also are in a situation where time is of the very essence of the matter, particularly due to the need for transferring a Liquor License before its expiration. My partner, Bill Hesson, has repeatedly appeared before the Liquor Board in connection with an alcoholic beverage license transfer to allow beer and wine to be served in the Pizza Time Theater, a vital part of the overall concept. On

The Honorable William E. Hammond -2- May 11, 1982

March 8, 1982, the Liquor Board gave Mr. Hesson and Family Entertainment Center of Essex, Inc., one last extension requiring that the matter be completely cleared up and any zoning relief final and the License transferred and ready to be utilized by not later than September 8, 1982. The Liquor Board has informed us that no further extensions will be granted, and the Board has been very gracious in granting several extensions to allow the Council to enact amusement machine legislation, as well as to obtain the special exception required by Bill 29-82.

3.) In addition to this Liquor Board deadline, Williams Management, Inc., one of the owners of the center, has kept a vacant space available for Pizza Time literally for months waiting for the Council to clear up the amusement machine area by new legislation. As we will all recall, the first amusement machine bill passed by the Council was vetoed by the County Executive, and this veto added to the delay.

Based upon what we believe are very compelling hardship factors, we are respectfully requesting that this case for Pizza Time filed in the name of Williams Management, Inc., be scheduled in Mid-June, as soon as possible after the Bill becomes effective.

We have checked with Mr. Commodari and there does not seem to be any problem with any of the agencies who will be filing further Zoning Advisory Committee comments and thus a June scheduling will in no way conflict with any Baltimore County agencies' comment or with the State Highway Administration comment. As we are all well aware, in order to obtain a final zoning decision on this special exception beyond appeal, a date in June is most important. Also, such a date will allow my partner, Bill Hesson, to re-appear before the Liquor Board, hopefully well in advance of the deadline to complete the License Transfer.

Thanking you and your staff for your kind attention to this urgent request and looking forward to scheduling the matter with your staff, I am,

Respectfully yours,

Newton A. Williams

PIZZA TIME THEATRE

CHUCK E. CHEESE'S PIZZA TIME THEATRE COMES TO NEW CARROLLTON

Chuck E. Cheese's Pizza Time Theatre may be the only restaurant in the history of eating establishments to advertise gladly, that they have rats on the premises!

Chuck E. Cheese, the six foot tall rascal of a rodent, acts as the Master of Ceremonies for this rapidly expanding chain of 130 plus family-oriented restaurant and entertainment centers. He circulates through the restaurant complete with bow tie and derby entertaining children of all ages. Chuck E. Cheese also heads up the Pizza Time Players, computerized character puppets who perform musically in the Main Dining Room.

All this may sound fantastic, and it is. The whole bizarre extravaganza was the vision of Nolan Bushnell, founder of Atari Corporation, inventor of Pong, and known to many as the "father" of electronic games. This unique concept combines three elements: a quality pizza and sandwich establishment; life size computer controlled animated characters who perform musical skits; and technological entertainment provided by video games, small children's rides and a giant 14 foot diagonal screen T.V.

Dolli Dimples, a super-sized piano playing hippopotamus, sings seductively in the Cabaret Lounge. She is as much an attraction to adults as she is to children. With a wink and a shrug of her gold-rimmed shoulder, the bright orange haired Dolli sings "Frankie and Johnny" much to the delight of the small children clustered around her piano bar. The audience is easily fascinated by her life-like appearance. Then its off to the giant swiss cheese maze called the "Cheese Crawl". Fully carpeted, it is an ideal place for "rug rats" to use up energy while Mom and Dad sit back sipping wine.

Birthday parties at Chuck E. Cheese's are extremely popular. Pizza Time Theatres supply hats, balloons, favors, pizza, soft drinks and ice cream. The Pizza Time Players sing a special birthday song, and Chuck E. Cheese himself will make a personal appearance at your table. Pin-the-tail-on-the-donkey was never that much fun!

Pizzas ranging in size from the one person mini to the four person large are served in a variety of flavors. How about a Hawaiian Special? Ham, pineapple and almonds. And surprisingly enough, it's delicious! The sandwiches are monstrous and hot with cheese melting over the sides of the French style bread. And if that's not enough, try the "All You Can Eat" salad bar or the "Make It Yourself" ice cream sundae bar. Beverage selection can be difficult if you're the type that has a hard time making decisions. Soft drinks, ice tea, apple juice, lemonade, milk, coffee and a good selection of light and dark draught beers and domestic wines can satisfy anyone's taste.

Chuck E. Cheese's Pizza Time Theatre is a cross between McDonald's and Disneyland in that it offers food service and technological entertainment. No one under 18 is allowed in without a parent. This helps keep the atmosphere wholesome for the little ones. It caters primarily to families that are looking for an informal place to dine where they can also have fun together as a family.

If you have read all this, you know by now that we would like to show off our New Carrollton, Maryland Pizza Time Theatre to you. If you are as impressed by our restaurant/entertainment center as we know you will be, we would be very pleased if you would consider communicating this to your readers, viewers, or listeners.

A Press Kit containing press releases, pictures, articles, and promotional materials is enclosed for your perusal. If you have any questions on these materials, please call us at (301) 762-8020 or (301) 279-2585.

We will be calling you in a few days to see if we can arrange a meeting to further discuss this exciting new concept. Within a few weeks, we will also have more definite information on our GRAND OPENING MEDIA NIGHT, to which we will request your presence.

CHUCK E. CHEESE'S PIZZA TIME THEATRE

Dear Customer,

Welcome to Chuck E. Cheese's Pizza Time Theatre! We hope you have a great time here and that you and your family come back often. If you have any suggestions that would make the "Chuck E. Cheese experience" even more enjoyable, please let us know.

Chuck E. Cheese's Pizza Time Theatre is a new and unique family-oriented restaurant and entertainment center. It is the brainchild of Nolan Bushnell, inventor of Pong, founder of Atari Games and considered by many to be the "Father" of electronic games. Pizza Time Theatre caters to families and large groups that are looking for informal dining, good pizza, and a place where they can have fun together.

The Master of Ceremonies is Chuck E. Cheese, and Chuck F. and the Pizza Time Players like to entertain children of all ages. Chuck & F. Cheese hosts birthday parties (see our Birthday Party), entertains groups up to 300 (see our Group brochure) and participates in a wide variety of community events. Pizza Time Theatre also sponsors "Community Involvement" fund raisers for various groups and the managers can provide information on these.

Chuck E. Cheese and The Pizza Time Players are computer-controlled animated characters that perform automatically two minutes out of every ten on a balcony stage. Dolli Dimples, our 8 foot tall Hippo, sings lustily in her Cabaret Lounge when you put a token in her coinbox. Special arrangements can be made for programming our 14 foot diagonal screen TV. The "Kiddie" room is designed for younger children and some attractions geared toward them are free, such as the "Cheese Crawl" underneath the stage.

The electronic video games are much easier to play than they look. Even parents can learn how. Game room attendants can provide instructions or answer any questions you might have. The games are activated by tokens that are given away with food orders and which can also be purchased in our dollar bill changers at 4 for $1.00 (25¢ per token) or 25 for $5.00 (20¢ per token).

Enjoy yourself and tell your friends about Chuck E. Cheese's Pizza Time Theatre. Thanks for coming; we appreciate your business.

Sincerely,
The Management

THE PIZZA TIME THEATRE CONCEPT

Nolan Bushnell is the Chairman and founder of Pizza Time Theatre, Inc. (PTT), and he was previously the founder of Atari, Inc. in 1972. Mr. Bushnell is an engineer and one of the early creators of electronic video games. Under Mr. Bushnell's guidance, Atari, Inc. grew to $3.5 million in revenues and was sold to Warner Communications for $29 million in 1976. Joe Keenan is the President and Chief Executive Officer of PTT. Mr. Keenan was formerly the Chairman of Atari, Inc., an IBM salesman, and the founder of an electronic games company.

The inception of the Pizza Time Theatre concept occurred in 1972 and 1973 when Nolan Bushnell and Joe Keenan were attempting to determine how Atari, Inc. could market electronic games to the public. Atari, Inc. wanted to be more than a manufacturer and distributor of games; it also wanted to control the retail outlets. Typical game locations at that time included arcades, bowling alleys, bars, and the like, and they believed these locations were undesirable because of a hang-out image, real estate difficulties, and the near exclusion of children. Also in 1973, Messrs. Bushnell and Keenan visited the "Bear Country Jamboree" show at Disneyland, which features life-size, computer-controlled, animated characters performing on a stage. As a result, they decided to consider a family-oriented retail concept which offered "fun" food, electronic games and small rides, and computer-controlled pneumatic technology, which PTT calls "Cyberamics," and it was purchased by PTT in 1978, along with all other Pizza Time Theatre rights and trademarks. The first Pizza Time Theatre actually appeared in May of 1977 as a subsidiary of Atari, Inc.

Pizza Time Theatres are distinctive in that they combine the popularity of a quality pizza restaurant with computer-operated games and rides, computer-controlled animated characters with original voice and music scores synchronized to animated movements, and walk-around costumed versions of the characters. The typical Pizza Time Theatre restaurant contains six computer-controlled animated characters in the "Theatre Dining Room," an eight foot high computer-controlled hippopotamus or lion in the "Cabaret Lounge," and a game room with approximately 70 video games and children's rides. The typical unit is 8,000 to 12,000 square feet, and is located in a commercial area within a densely populated suburb of a major metropolitan area. Children under the age of 18 are not allowed in the unit without an adult, and the concept caters extensively to families and large groups.

UNIQUENESS OF THE CONCEPT

Pizza Time Theatres are not fast food restaurants; they are a totally unique concept combining food service with technological entertainment oriented towards families. The ways in which Pizza Time Theatres are unique are as follows:

1. Pizza Time Theatres are oriented towards families. Demographic and income trends for families are favorable, and parents are once again looking for activities to participate in as a family unit. Children under the age of 18 are not allowed in without a parent, so as to insure that it does not become a "hangout."
2. Pizza Time Theatres are local entertainment centers that are relatively inexpensive. A family of four can have a very enjoyable unplanned outing lasting two hours for about $20.00. The children are able to enjoy the restaurant and run free rather than have to "sit still" as in most restaurants.
3. The concept makes use of recent breakthroughs in semiconductor and electronics technology. Children of today are as accustomed to home computers and electronic video games as kids of 15 years ago were to T.V., and they seem to be prepared to participate in the increasing levels of sophistication that will surely come. Electronic entertainment in robots (Cyberamics), games and video-systems is in its infancy, and Pizza Time Theatres should benefit from growth in all three areas.
4. The Cyberamics also provide Pizza Time Theatres with characters that can be actively promoted much like "Ronald McDonald." In fact, the units are actually called Chuck E. Cheese's Pizza Time Theatre and many customers call the places "Chuck's." Each unit has a Chuck E. Cheese costume, and every hour one of the employees makes an appearance as Chuck E. Cheese and acts as the host for small children. Chuck E. Cheese and his cohorts, like Mr. Munch, are extremely successful attractions at the store and in the community, because they can be touched and talked to, whereas Ronald McDonald is limited to television commercials.
5. PTT is a company of extremely creative people. It is likely to stay at the forefront of new developments in technological entertainment, character development, and labor saving food service procedures.

NEWS RELEASE

CHUCK E. CHEESE'S PIZZA TIME THEATRE IS COMING TO NEW CARROLLTON

The first Pizza Time Theatre in Prince George's County will open in the last week in March at 8445 Annapolis Road, New Carrollton, Maryland. The rapidly expanding chain of family-oriented restaurant/entertainment centers operates or has franchised 100 restaurants in 26 states, Australia and Canada. The New Carrollton Pizza Time Theatre will be owned and operated by Family Entertainment Centers, Inc., a multi-unit franchisee that also has a Pizza Time Theatre in Rockville, Maryland and Richmond, Virginia.

Pizza Time Theatre is the brainchild of Nolan K. Bushnell, inventor of Pong, founder of Atari, and considered by many to be the "father" of electronic games. This unique concept in family entertainment combines three elements: a quality pizza-oriented food service establishment; video games, amusements, and small rides; and technological entertainment provided by a giant screen T.V. and the Pizza Time Players--life size, computer-controlled animated characters that perform skits.

Chuck E. Cheese, a six foot tall rascal of a rodent, serves as the Master of Ceremonies by circulating through the restaurant entertaining small children. The Pizza Time Players, who perform in the main dining room every eight minutes, include Jasper T. Jowls, Mr. Munch, Pasqually, The Warblettes, and Guest Star Harmony Howlette. Dolli Dimple, an eight foot hippopotamus, sings ragtime in the Cabaret Lounge.

Family Entertainment Centers, Inc. is constructing this new 12,000 square foot Pizza Time Theatre in the New Carrollton Plaza shopping center. The location will seat over 350 people and contain space for a theatre-dining room showcasing the Pizza Time Players, Dolli Dimple's Cabaret Lounge, a Channel "C" dining room, a game room, a smaller children's fun area, Jasper's General Store, and an office, kitchen and storage area.

This will be the fifth of many Chuck E. Cheese's Pizza Time Theatres to be opened in California, Maryland and Virginia by Family Entertainment Centers, Inc.

LOOKING FOR A GOOD IDEA FOR A FIELD TRIP ?

Chuck E. Cheese's Pizza Time Theatre is a great field trip idea, because Chuck E. Cheese's is a totally unique family entertainment center that is oriented to children.

Chuck E. Cheese's Pizza Time Theatre would like to invite you and your group to join us on a very different kind of restaurant TOUR. Your group will be given a carefully supervised tour through our entire Chuck E. Cheese's operation. Each step will be fully explained so that everyone will have a good understanding of how the restaurant operates. As you tour our kitchen, your group will be impressed with the organization, teamwork and skill necessary to make a large restaurant run smoothly.

The computer-controlled animated characters that perform skits from a balcony stage, such as Chuck E. Cheese, Mr. Munch, and Pasqually, will amaze and delight everyone. The behind-the-scenes workings of these computerized characters will be especially fascinating.

A tour at Chuck E. Cheese's Pizza Time Theatre is fun, educational, takes approximately 45 minutes, and is FREE.

Your group will also be treated to pizza, soft drinks and a personal visit from CHUCK E. CHEESE, our rodent mascot and host.

If you are interested in planning such a tour, please call our Manager, and he will be happy to make arrangements. We look forward to hearing from you.

Ms. Mary Travetsky
Supervisor of Fairfax

Fairfax, Virginia

Dear Ms. Travetsky:

I am taking the liberty of writing you to tell you about an exciting new business venture that has opened in Rockville which would also like to locate in your area. The Chucky Cheese Pizza Time Theatre recently opened its first east coast outlet in Wintergreen Plaza on Rockville Pike. I think it is fair to say that both the City and the company have been very pleased by their arrival.

Pizza Time Theatres offer a unique combination of food and entertainment especially oriented towards families with small children. In the short time that it has been opened in Rockville, Pizza Time Theatre has become a gathering place for families to go out together for an evening or an afternoon's recreation. And more importantly, it has not become a gathering point for teenagers in an unsupervised environment.

A great deal of this family oriented success can be attributed to a corporate decision to refuse admission to anyone under the age of 18 not accompanied by an adult. As a consequence, the beer and wine service and wide assortment of video games tend to be ancillary attractions to the food and automated entertainment performances that Pizza Time Theatre offers.

We in Rockville have been very pleased that this type of facility could be developed in our jurisdiction. I would think that Fairfax County would also enjoy the good clean family fun that this type of facility could provide. And, I trust that you would review the components of this enterprise to determine whether any ordinances need to be refined so that they would not be an obstacle to future locations.

As a member of the City Council, I am personally delighted that Pizza Time Theatre has been introduced here, and I would be more than willing to offer the benefits of our experience to you personally if you find it appropriate.

Sincerely yours,

Steve Abrams

To Whom It May Concern

RE: Pizza Time
8357 Laurel Canyon Blvd.
Sun Valley, CA 91352

Dear Concerned Persons:

As the property Manager of Canyon Plaza Shopping Center, I've participated in the selection of Pizza Time as a tenant. I have also had the privilege of working extensively with Pizza Time personnel on such matters as tenant construction/management/maintenance and marketing. In every instance, the various representatives of Pizza Time have conducted their business affairs in accord with high professional standards.

I personally consider Pizza Time an asset to both Canyon Plaza and the greater Sun Valley community. Pizza Time sponsors at least one local little league team, strongly supported last year's Muscular Dystrophy fund raising efforts, and are active in a wide variety of community and charitable efforts. Even the Sun Valley Chamber of Commerce was pleased to have Pizza Time locate in the community, and conducts one of their monthly membership luncheon meetings at Pizza Time!

Since Pizza Time opened for business more than nine months ago, I have personally received only three community complaints regarding the operation. One complaint came from a competitive pizza concern; another complaint came from a woman who was extremely upset because she was not allowed a discount on a pizza purchase without a coupon entitling her to such a discount; the last complaint concerned a truck delivering goods after our 9 p.m. curfew on deliveries and this matter was promptly resolved.

Based on my first-hand experience, I would state categorically that the management personnel with Pizza Time respond quickly to problems when they arise. Their house rule not to admit any minor unless accompanied by an adult has enabled Pizza Time to maintain a public image as a family entertainment center, and, for sound business reasons the rule is rigidly enforced by responsible Pizza Time personnel.

Please feel free to write me at our office address below if you have any questions regarding the Pizza Time operation at Canyon Plaza.

Warmest regards,

BACKGROUND INFORMATION
FAMILY ENTERTAINMENT CENTERS, INC.

FEC was incorporated on April 1, 1980, in California, and its headquarters office is now in Rockville, Maryland. FEC was established to become a franchisee of Pizza Time Theatre, Inc., headquartered in Sunnyvale, California, which had public offerings in April and November of 1981. FEC has agreed to develop a minimum of twenty Pizza Time Theatres on an exclusive basis in major metropolitan areas of Maryland, Virginia, and the District of Columbia by 1985. FEC has also developed Pizza Time Theatres in Sun Valley and Northridge, California, and may develop in other states if franchises become available.

FEC opened its first Pizza Time Theatre in Sun Valley, California on July 15, 1980 and its second in Rockville, Maryland on June 1, 1981, its third in Richmond, Virginia on November 19, 1981, and its fourth in Northridge, California on February 21, 1982. The first three restaurants are believed to be three of the best performing stores in the 100 unit Pizza Time Theatre chain in terms of revenues, profits, appearance and operations. FEC places a substantial emphasis on customer service at the store level and FEC has developed many original family attractions, such as a video callout system, a giant screen T.V., and a taping program of events in the community.

It is FEC's goal to develop at least twenty Pizza Time Theatres as rapidly as possible given the availability of capital, personnel and sites, and the constraint of competition. FEC will attempt to execute the Pizza Time Theatre concept as best it can while refining and expanding the concept where possible.

The founder, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of FEC is Patrick A. Hopf. Mr. Hopf was employed for eight years by Capital Research Company, serving as Vice President and Financial Analyst for the last five years, and part of his responsibilities included analyzing restaurants and venture capital situations. The President of FEC is David M. Roberts, a lawyer, MBA, and former restaurant owner and consultant. The Board of Directors also includes the National Sales Manager for Dean Witter, the Director of Research for Montgomery Securities, a highly respected small business lawyer, and two of the founders of Victoria Station.

Show Time at Pizza Chain

By DIANE WAGNER

SUNNYVALE, Calif.

— She leans forward seductively, and in a husky voice reminiscent of another singer, Pearl Bailey, says, "Hello, handsome, why don't you sing along?"

Then, with a wink and a shrug of a gold-lamé-covered shoulder, Dollie Dimples, an enormous hippopotamus with bright orange hair, starts singing "Yankee Doodle Dandy," much to the delight of the small children clustered around her piano bar munching on pizza.

The audience appears fascinated by the movement of her satirized yowls and leaping bosom, and even parents seated at nearby tables seem to enjoy hearing songs like "Hello, Dolly" and George Gershwin's "Summertime."

Miss Dimples appears daily in a cabaret-like lounge at local outlets of Pizza Time Theatre, an aggressive, fast-growing chain of restaurants that expects to triple its sales, to almost $30 million, this year.

And the Bally Manufacturing Company, the nation's largest maker of pinball machines and electronic games, announced last week that it was buying a 24-percent chain of pizza restaurants in Chicago, which will be converted into

Entertainment Centers

These establishments, however, can hardly be considered conventional restaurants, since they combine eating and leisure-time activities, such as video games, and shows featuring the computerized robot characters in what are being called family entertainment centers.

"We're really selling the entertainment," said Pat Saig, marketing director, "the pizza, rather than the steak."

It is an idea apparently, that appeals to more than just the customers of the 48 company-owned outlets and 42 franchises. Two competitors also think similar combinations will sell. The Brock Hotel Corporation, which had initially planned to re-develop the combination restaurant-entertainment centers with Pizza Time, in addition to operating its 51 Holiday Inns, now began to have 45 of its own ShowBiz Pizza Places with food, games and entertainment open by the end of the year.

Mr. Bushnell, 40, who replaced Mr. Bushnell at Atari, is now president of Pizza Time. "We believe more in the growth of this company than any large company would," Mr. Keenan said.

"We now have a company-owned outlet or franchise opening at an average rate of one every four days," Mr. Keenan said. "We came into the year with 14 company stores, and 11 franchises. We'll leave the year with 48 company stores and 42 franchises."

The company also operates outlets in Australia and Canada.

000,000 investment needed. The company charges a $20,000 franchise fee and takes 6 percent of the profits in royalties and in payment for new computer software supplied every six months for the robot shows. In addition, Mr. Keenan said, each restaurant requires an investment of about $80,000 for rent, equipment, leasing, and other expenses before it may be opened for business.

Most outlets are in middle-class suburban areas where there are enough young couples with children willing to spend as much as $20 at each visit for pizza, ice cream or sandwiches, and show featuring the pneumatically operated, computerized robots like Dollie Dimples, and the opportunity to play electronic games like Pac-Man, Asteroids and Centipede. Beer and wine are also sold.

The family-oriented marketing may have an added attraction both for parents and the community. The company discourages the traditional game arcade clientele — males aged 13 to 17 — by posting signs outside each restaurant stating that anyone under the age of 18 must be accompanied by a parent.

"If another teen-ager never sets foot in our stores," Mr. Saig said, "that'll be just fine with us. Parents know their children won't be playing games with 16- and 17-year-olds. They can feel comfortable having a glass of wine and letting their seven- and eight-year-olds run wild in the store."

According to company surveys, many families return to a Pizza Time restaurant every two months. Mr. Saig hopes to increase these visits to once a month with additional advertising on children's television programs and direct mail promotional campaigns.

Most visits last slightly more than two hours, with at least some of the time spent in the video game rooms while waiting for the pizza. The video games accept quarters or free tokens, given with food purchases.

The restaurants each have a "general store" where items such as baseball caps, T-shirts and playing cards are sold, all bearing pictures of the chain's characters. The items sell for cash or for tickets won at game-ball.

The chain's mascot is Chuck E. Cheese, a wise-cracking "New Jersey" rat vaguely similar to Walt Disney's Mickey Mouse. His usual costume, a bright yellow shirt and patterned vest, will be changed to tails and a top hat at a meeting of district managers and franchisees in Monterey, Calif., Sept. 11 through 13.

Chuck E. Cheese gives Mickey Mouse a run for his money!

By ELIZABETH BORDON

Life: Today Writer

There's a little bit of Disneyland right here in Mobile.

Life-sized, electronically animated characters sing and sway, playing their pretend instruments. Flags wave in sync with the live music, kids climb in and out of a hot-mustard maze designed especially for them, and dozens of electronic video games blink and clink at the same time.

And in the midst of all this hubbub an people of all ages, happily munching away on pizza.

Where is all this excitement going on?

At a place called Chuck E. Cheese's Pizza Time Theatre, a restaurant in town that is one of the nation's newest, and apparently hottest, fast-food chains. Located in Hegeney Shopping Center on Airport Boulevard, Pizza Time Theatre opened in April of this year. It is the first of the franchise to open in Alabama.

Owners William and Nancy Drane found out about the franchise "a couple of years ago, when my husband went on a business trip to our guest star, Madame Okie, the California and saw one of the stores. According to Mrs. Drane, "He thought it would be a good idea; Mobile, so he checked into it, and here we are."

Pizza Time Theatre is the brainchild of Nolan K. Bushnell, a pioneer in video games. The first store, which was opened as a prototype, opened in 1977 in San Jose, Calif. Bushnell formed the Pizza Time Theatre Corp. in 1978. Since that time, the corporation has grown from the operation in San Jose to 50 restaurants spread across various parts of the country.

The unique family entertainment center combines three elements: video games and amusements, a pizza restaurant, and musical entertainment provided by the Pizza Time Players — computer-controlled, life-sized, mechanical characters.

There are three main rooms in the 3,000 square feet of the Mobile store. The piano bar features Dollie Dimples, a huge pink hippopotamus who belt out cabaret songs that have been programmed into her computer controls to play every eight minutes. There is the main dining room, with one end taken up by a stage running the length of the room. Performers daily onstage are the Pizza Time Players. And there is the "Puzzle Palace," a maze with 45 of the latest electronic video and arcade games. The games take quarters or special tokens that are given out by Pizza Time Theatre with purchase of food. In the game room are also the "Cheese Crawl," a carpeted maze which has a slide for an exit, Jasper's General Store, where customers can buy Chuck E. Cheese T-shirts and any number of other souvenir items, and a play area for toddlers.

Chuck E. Cheese is the main attraction of the Theatre. "He's a street-wise, New Jersey-born rat," explained Mrs. Drane, laughing. "He's the emcee for the Pizza Time Players. We also have Jasper T. Lewis, a banjo-strumming, country-singing, bawling dog. Finally, the Italian chef with an eye for the ladies, Mr. Munch, who's a furry purple portmanteau of a pizza, and our guest star, Madame Okie, the California and saw one of the stores. According to Mrs. Drane, "He thought it would be a good idea; Mobile, so he checked into it, and here we are."

The electronic characters are manufactured by the Pizza Time Theatre Corporation under the trademark Cybermanics. There are 600 computer instructions per second programmed into the sophisticated electronic technology of the Cybermanics. The intricate system requires the establishment to maintain a full-time electrical technician. Paul Early, the technician, also maintains the maze-work games. "There are two tape-loaded computer systems that give the robot a real to reel mechanism," he explained. "The robot sees the digital data, and the voices in the Cybermanics, pneumatic, or mechanical end it makes things move. The games break down quite often. Like anything that is used a lot, they break a lot. I stay pretty busy, but I really enjoy it."

One big difference between Pizza Time Theatres and other fast-food outlets is the thrust toward group sales. They offer many packages and special events such as birthday parties, anniversaries, and other celebrations. They also offer behind-the-scenes group tours of the store for church and school groups. Non-profit organizations are encouraged to use Pizza Time's Community Involvement Night on Monday, Tuesday, or Wednesday nights as a means of fund-raising for such functions as school fairs, benefit picnics, or parades.

The restaurant is strictly family oriented, according to Mrs. Drane. "We want to appeal to kids of all ages," she said. "The family is what we want to reach. We do serve beer and wine here, but no one is allowed in alone under 18. Anyone younger must be accompanied by an adult."

The games are a big draw — the kids like them so much. And we sometimes have a problem with kids coming in just to play the games, but we have been keeping a lid on that pretty well, so far. We don't want to become a hang-out for kids."

Pizza Time Theatre has 43 employees, most of them part-time. The managers and assistant managers go to California for a one-month training period before they begin work. Vance Iapachino, an assistant manager, expressed his feelings about working at Pizza Time Theatre. "I love working here. It was a challenge for me, learning all the different aspects of such a complex business. One of the hardest things for me has been having enough patience, because it does get hectic here when we're crowded, with little kids running around all over the place. But there's nothing like the expression on a little kid's face when Chuck E. Cheese walks in and says hello. It's really an exciting business."

Economy & Business

Making Pizza Dough

Venture capitalists routinely come across way-out investment proposals. But few have sounded wackier yet paid off more handsomely than Pizza Time Theatre Inc. (Sunnyvale, Calif.). The company operates, rapidly growing, 50-restaurant chain of fast-food pizza places in which food is almost the least of the attractions.

The real action is in the room, a mix of computerized electronic games designed to divert amuse and swallow the quarters of customers waiting for their pizza to cook. Even more entertainment is provided, free of charge, by troupe of singing, talking, joke-telling robots dressed up to resemble Muppet-like characters.

Pizza Time Theatre Inc. is the creation of Nolan Bushnell, 38, a micro-electronics expert. In 1975 Bushnell founded the successful Atari electronic games company with a $500 initial investment. Four years later, he sold out to Warner Communications, ending up with $15 million in cash and debentures, and took the post of chairman of his company, which became a new Warner subsidiary. Since then, Atari has broadened from electronic games to personal computers. Bushnell had been working on the Pizza Time concept at Atari, but before the first of the computerized robots, a wisecracking rat named Chuck E. Cheese emerged from the lab, the company had been bought by Warner Communications.

Though Warner's management permitted Bushnell to open an initial Pizza Time Theatre restaurant in San Jose in 1977, the parent company never saw much future in the idea. In 1978 Bushnell resigned his chairmanship, put up $500,000 to buy back the Pizza Time concept from his old employer, and went into business for himself.

By the fall of 1979, Bushnell had plowed $1.8 million more of his personal wealth into Pizza Time Theatre Inc. and had opened four more outlets on the West Coast. But to expand further he needed more money. Bushnell therefore turned to venture capitalists for backing. Says Wallace Davis, 63, whose venture capital firm, Mayfield Fund, invested $750,000 in the company: "I'm not a game player, or a big pizza eater. But I was a serious observer of the customers at Pizza Time restaurants. People really seemed to enjoy themselves there."

Another attraction for investors was Bushnell's good business record at Atari.

In January 1980 several venture capitalists put up $2.5 million in return for 569,333 shares of Pizza Time stock at $3.75 per share. Ten months later, investors bought an additional $72,941 shares at $5.25. In April of this year, a syndicate of venture capitalists sold 1.17 million shares to the general public at $15 per share, or nearly triple what the venture capitalists had paid less than six months earlier. And the stock has climbed higher still. Last week Pizza Time Theater was selling for $23.75 per share, or more than six times what the stock was worth 18 months earlier, when the first venture-capitalists bought a slice of the Pizza Time action.

Lights! Cameras! Action! & Perpetual Commotion At Chuck E. Cheese's

Dollie Dimples, the 12-foot hippo, is sitting to the left at the piano bar and crooning "Hello, Dolly." The doll of Dollie drifts to the right or an audio-visuals collage comes crashing into the sound of "Superman" on a giant video projection screen and the smell of pizza being eaten by 20 families watching the movie.

Down the corridor, night-actress from the pizza stand, Big Zap! Theong Bop! POW! 75 electronic arcade games are blasting away in simultaneous abandon. "NO! THE BOMB! VOID!" proclaims the creepy synthesized voice of Berserk, while a robot shoots and gets shot. "PREPARE YOURSELF FOR ANNIHILATION," says the ominous master of Gorf, a more sophisticated Zenkies version of Space Invaders. Throughout the building, color video monitors with futuristic displays announce when a pizza order is ready.

Welcome to Chuck E. Cheese's Pizza Time Theatre, the new American Family Night Out, everything you want from a store and a little bit more. Pizza Hut, Doc's, and the Boardwalk (yes, they have Skeer-Ball), a movie theater, a playground, an electronics arcade, mutant Muppets, and a candy and novelty shop all rolled into one compact unit that is taking in cash beat paw over frog's foot on the Pike in Rockville's Wintergreen Plaza.
